Treasury Issues Definite Instructions To Carry Out Decision

By Associated Press

Washington — There were increasing indications in high official circles here Tuesday that President Harding might ask congress when it reassembles next fall to modify the prohibition law as it affects the carrying of liquor on board foreign vessels in American waters

The president was said to believe that Congress never intended the gov to be confronted with the situation it now is called upon to meet by the objections of foreign powers in regard to the new rigorous ship liquor ban

In the present circumstances, it was added, Mr. Harding sees no possible course open to him but to enforce to the letter the Volstead act as it recently was interpreted by the supreme court. He believes that no executive regulation he could issue could properly modify application of the court's opinion and that only an act of congress would be sufficient

Washington—Customs officers Monday had definite instructions from the treasury that the regulations carrying out the recent supreme court decision barring beverage liquor from the territorial waters of the United States are to be strictly enforced

Issuance of the instructions Monday night followed suggestions to the treasury by the French government, through its embassy here Monday, that inasmuch as the liner France, in New York harbor had left her home port prior to June 10, the effective date of the regulations they should not apply to prevent issuance of wine rations to the crew Some representation was said to have been made that an understanding had been reached permitting this and the instructions were issued, it was said to avoid any further misunderstanding with foreign governments

FRENCH CRITICIZE BRITISH DEBT PLAN

Newspapers Attempt To Justify French Invasion Of The Ruhr

By Associated Press

Paris—A note of disappointment marks the newspapers' treatment of the British cabinet deliberations Monday as if the French press expected that the ministry of Mr Baldwin would show a marked departure from its predecessor in its policy towards France as regards the Ruhr

Several of the commentators seek to justify the French Ruhr action from the start of the occupation repeating that whatever steps France has taken have been based on the Versailles treaty.

The decisions reached by the British cabinet are summarized in what apparently is a semi official note, as follows

It is impossible to demand that Germany cease passive resistance as no German government could execute this condition without incurring the danger of a Communist reaction

Interallied discussion is possible on the basis of the German memorandum although the figures contained in it are unacceptable

The British cabinet believes it could persuade the Reich to accept the figures of the Bonar Law plan proposed last January

If France is unwilling to change her point of view Great Britain suggests that allied experts fix the amount of German reparations after investigating conditions in Germany

If these experts reach an agreement Great Britain would then demand that Germany cease passive resistance

BENTLEY URGES HOME RULE FOR BADGER CITIES

Democrat Leader Seeks Fuller Municipal Representation At Madison

By Associated Press

Stevens Point—Home rule for cities, joint city and county government, complete control by cities of public utilities, actual values of real estate for taxation purposes, amendment of the Wisconsin nonpartisan election laws for cities were some of the recommendations of Arthur A Bentley, president of the league of Wisconsin municipalities in address Tuesday at the Twenty-fifth annual convention of that body Mr Bentley has served three terms as president of the organization. He also was mayor of La Crosse for eight years, and last fall sought the governorship of Wisconsin as a Democrat

The establishment of a municipal engineering department at Madison, and raising to ten mills for general purposes the bonding debt limit, were other recommendations of President Bentley. Touching upon municipal ownership of public utilities, he said.

"The control of our public service utilities by the Wisconsin Railroad commission may be to some degree right in principle but in actual practice many cities of the state have found much that is of grave injustice to the small tax payer, comprising about 90 per cent of the population Complete control of public service utilities, including the right of taxation fixing rates, and distribution of service should be vested in the cities

LAWRENCE TO GRADUATE ITS BIGGEST CLASS

More Than 120 Degrees Will Be Conferred At Exercises Tomorrow

PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS

Annual Oration Is Given By Dr. Reynolds At Program This Morning

The largest class in the history of Lawrence college will be graduated at Lawrence Memorial chapel at 10:30 Wednesday morning. More than 120 degrees will be given at that time including two master and several doctor of divinity degrees. Lewis Voss of Danvers, Ill, is to be toastmaster at the annual alumni banquet at Russel Sage dormitory at 6:30 Tuesday evening. An interesting alumni program has been planned.

All commencement programs are being attended by more people than usual from Appleton and from out of town. Class day exercises were held Monday afternoon and the Phi Beta Kappa business meeting and oration took place Tuesday morning, followed by the annual alumni luncheon and business meeting in the afternoon.

Pursuit of truth, righteousness and beauty, which are in themselves justifiable was the message of the Phi Beta Kappa oration given by Dr. George Reynolds who is a professor of English at the University of Colorado and a member of the class of '98 from Lawrence Dr Reynolds quoted modern literature and poetry to show that the fiction writers of today are beginning to agree with their grandfathers that you cannot separate religion and education.

AMUSES HEARERS

The oration was a delightful achievement of scholarly thought and splendid humor. The audience was amused and impressed with the way in which Dr Reynolds was able to show that Hardy, Sinclair Lewis, Henry Adams, H. G. Wells, John Galsworthy and even Bernard Shaw are saying at the present time in their works that the world needs wisdom and religion. Dr. Reynolds turned to the poetry at George Meredith to show that that poet was more interested in the problems which are facing people today, some 39 or 40 years after he wrote his poems, than he was of the problems of his time. The orator pointed to the fact that although the poet died in 1909, he had met some of the problems which people are trying to meet today.

Dr. Reynolds' great knowledge of literature and of young people of today brought a chuckle from his audience His oration was greeted with tremendous applause.

Miss Frances Foster was elected president of Phi Beta Kappa at the meeting of the chapter preceding the public oration W. S. Ford was made vice president, Dr. Arthur Weston, secretary treasurer and Dr. Louis Baker a member of the executive committee Routine business of the fraternity was transacted.

CLASS DAY HELD

Class day exercises on Monday afternoon proved to be anything but the usual routine. Everett Hall presided at the exercises and added must zest to them, especially in presenting the traditional spade to Miss Evelyn Garrett of Chicago and the spoon to John TeSelle of Oostburg. Mr. Hall gave each of these young people a few anxious moments while he outlined their qualifications for the honors.

Karl A Windesheim presented the class prophecy as from the year 1973, which would mark the fiftieth anniversary of this commencement. He introduced the material of prophecy as coming from an alumni record of that date The fates which he predicted for his classmates brought many a laugh from those who were not the butt of the joke at that moment. A splendid class poem which combined memories and aspirations was given by John Sullivan and Miss Olive Chapin read the will of the class to those who are left to mourn the loss of the class of 1923 Miss Helen Soule delivered the ivy oration and planted the ivy This latter ceremony occurred on the east lawn of the chapel Musical numbers were given by Lucille Meusel Dorcas Jacka and Winfield Alexander, members of the class

COLLEGE SOLOISTS IN PROGRAM WHICH ENDS SCHOOL YEAR

Splendid Concert Is Offered By Lawrence Conservatory Graduates

Graduate students of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music appeared in a concert of music of the highest order at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Monday evening. The program preceded presentation of certificates and the final appearance for some of the young physicians. A crowd equal to that of the most popular artist's audience during the winter season was present to enjoy the numbers.

Among the soloists who appeared on the program were Winfield Alexander, the blind tenor. Miss Dorothy Seidl, Miss Margaret Austin, Miss Beatrice Kort, Miss Edith Race, Miss Lucille Meusel and Miss Marion Hutchinson. All the vocal numbers were arias from artists who are just starting on their musical careers. The two pianists who appeared alone, Miss Dorothy Seidl and Miss Beatrice Kort played "Cantique d'Armour" by Liszt and "Cracovienne Fantastique" by Paderewski respectively. Both show unusual pianistic ability and musicianly understanding.

STRING QUARTET PLAYS

The Fullinwider String quartet, which includes the Misses Marion Miller, Ruth Schumaker, Pery Fullinwider and Joseph Zickler, opened the program with a group of numbers by Mozart and Boccherini. The quartet also appeared in three concertos with graduate pianists. The quartet has appeared many times in concert this year with piano soloists and these orchestrations have proved popular with the recital audiences.

Miss Norma Look, assisted by Miss Gladys Brainard, Prof. Frank A. Taber and the quartet, played the first movement of the concerto in A minor by Schumann. Miss Irma Sherman assisted by Miss Viola Buntrock and the quartet played the concerto E flat major by Liszt. Miss Lucille Meusel, assisted by Miss Sherman and the quartet, played the concerto D minor by MacDowell. Each required that the pianist be a musician of finish and poise and each number was splendidly presented.

The orchestrations of Liszt and MacDowell were done by Lawrence conservatory musicians. Miss Dorothy Seidl who appeared earlier in the evening as a piano soloist composed the orchestration for pianoforte and orchestra for the Liszt number, while Prof. Ludolph Arens, composed the MacDowell one.

Miss Lucille Meusel, who is a great favorite with Appleton audiences both as a piano soloist and vocal soloist, was greeted heartily by her audience. She sang an aria from Verdi and played the MacDowell concerto with the quartet. Miss Beatrice Kort who also appeared as a piano soloist was the accompanist of the evening for the arias.

Demand For Laborers Leads To Voluntary Declaration Of Raise

Thirteen thousand maintenance of way employes and shop laborers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad were granted wage increases ranging from one cent an hour to $10 a month effective as of June 1, it was announced at the company's offices at Chicago Monday.

Last week approximately 15,000 maintenance of way employes of the Northwestern road were granted increases ranging from 1 to 6 cents an hour. Maintenance of way employes and shop men of the Soo line have been notified of a wage increase.

Appleton employes of the three roads have been officially informed of the increase.

QUINLAN TALKS TO MANITOWOC CLUB

Tells Of Multiple Wire Telephone System — Announces Improvements

J. T. Quinlan, district manager of the Wisconsin telephone company, talked Monday noon to the Rotary club of Manitowoc following a luncheon of the organization in Elk hall.

Mr. Quinlan discussed general improvements made in telephones and principally the metri-plex or carrier telephone system which enables 16 persons to use one wire at the same time without interference. The system, Mr. Quinlan stated, is used in the west from Portland, Ore., through San Francisco to Los Angeles and also to many points east as far as Harrisburg, Pa.

This plan, according to the speaker, makes it possible to obtain an unusual amount of service out of a small mileage. Thus an actual 3,941 miles of telephone lines will be equal to 14,675 miles.

Manitowoc is putting $40,000 this year into improvements on its telephone system and for the next five years will expend $250,000.

HUGE ELM TREE IS BLASTED OFF ROAD

A green elm tree of considerable dimensions was blasted out of Seymour-Appleton-rd on which Parker and Wunderlich are about to lay concrete. About 4½ pounds of dynamite was used in the explosion which blew the tree about 12 feet into the air, and caused a hole 6 feet deep and 8 feet in diamter. One root clinging to the trunk was about eight feet long and about a half inch thick on one end and an inch and a half on the other. The root could be wound around like a coil. It has been placed in a tank by Robert Rohm who later intends to shape it, season it and save it as a curiosity.

TOO MUCH CURIOSITY

Curiosity proved to be the downfall of a young woman who lives on North Division-st. I was passing the house in which she lives, on Sunday afternoon, when she came out on the porch to get some papers which were on the porch swing. Just then a man went by in a Ford and in turning to watch him, she did not look where she stepped and fell off the porch. She sustained a sprained ankle. G. K.

FORD THROWS WHEEL

A Ford coupe, containing three young men, threw off a rear left wheel while it was speeding on College-ave in front of the Elite theater Monday noon. The wheel careened along the street and finally rested on the sidewalk narrowly missing several pedestrians. The car was stopped after it dragged along on the axle for about ten yards. J. P.

Appleton Will Be Riot Of Color For Valley's July Fourth Celebration

American Legion Planning To Entertain 10,000 Visitors Here On Independence Day

Appleton will be profusely decorated for the huge celebration of Independence day which Oney Johnston post of the American legion is arranging for July 4. An appropriation large enough to decorate College-ave and the streets leading to Pierce park, as well as the park itself, was authorized at a meeting of arrangement committee chairmen in the chamber of commerce rooms Monday evening. In addition to the decoration which the legion will do, the merchants will be asked to use all the flags and bunting at their disposal to trim up their buildings and the people will be requested to decorate their homes.

10,000 VISITORS

Widespread publicity is being given to the celebration and it is believed there will be visitors in Appleton from all parts of northeastern Wisconsin. Legion officers are expecting at least 10,000 visitors and are making preparations to entertain that number.

An effort will be made to have all the streets leading to Pierce park designated as arterial highways for the day to facilitate rapid trasportation and to minimie the danger of accident. A committee headed by J. B. Langenberg is arranging for space to park the thousands of automobiles which are expected to bring visitors to Appleton.

Direction signs will be placed on all the highways and streets to guide the visitors to Pierce park where the program is to be carried out. The park will be put in excellent condition for the big picnic.

SIGN JIMMY NUSS

Announcement was made on Monday that Jimmy Nuss, Milwaukee middleweight, has been signed to box Gunner Joe Quinn, St. Paul, in the windup of the boxing bout in Armory G which will be one of the star attractions of the day. This main bout will be supported by a splendid card of preliminaries which will bring together several of the best known boxers in Fox river valley cities.

Contracts now are being placed for the fireworks. It is planed to make the display worth going a hundred miles to see. Several military companies have signified their willingness to participate in the military drills which will be held in the park in the afternoon.

The following committee chairmen have been appointed:

General chairman—Charles C. Baker
Finance—J. N. Fisher.

The offer will be made at the annual convention at Janesville June 26, 27 and 28.

Lyman J. Nash of Manitowoc, trustee of Lawrence college and former revisor of Wisconsin statutes, was a guest of the association.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure and ask for "Mulsified."

ZONING PLIGHT AT MADISON RELIEVED

Case Similar To Appleton's Solved By Amending Ordinance

Appleton is in a similar position to the city of Madison as to its zoning ordinance limiting the height of buildings in its buiness district. The city council has already taken action to call a public hearing next Monday evening at which an amendment to the ordinance changing the height limit of buildings on College-ave from 65 feet to 90 feet will be considered. The amendment would make it possible for the Citizens National bank to add five stories to its present structure.

The city of Madison last week voted to amend its ordinance by raising the height limit of buildings around Capitol park to 115 feet, thus giving Piper Brothers permission to erect an 11-story hotel. John F. Baker, attorney for Piper Brothers, said that if the firm cannot erect an 11-story hotel, it did not care to build at all, as a building of lesser height would not be a profitable investment.

Cow Thought Horn Was Her Calf Calling

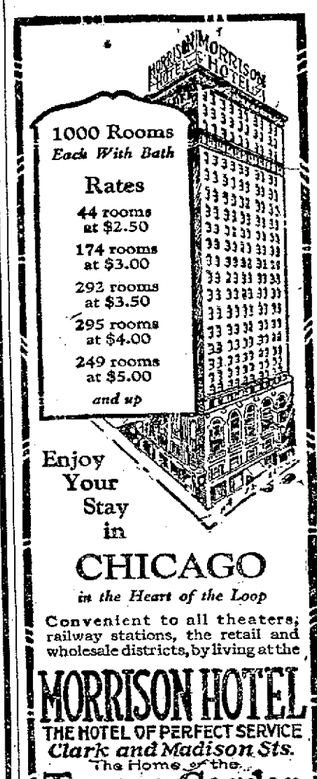

P. A. Paulsen, 50 Mason-st, would like to have a traffic officer stationed on Maple Grove-st, especially one who understands the whims of cattle. The tooting of the horn was mistaken by one of the cows for the bleating of a calf and caused the animal to jump on the running board of the car and break a fender.

LIBERTY MENACED BY TINKERING WITH BASIC LAW OF U. S.,

Keller Tells Lions They Can Serve By Upholding Constitution

Life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, inalienable rights of man, are endangered by meddling with the constitution of the United States, Gustave Keller told the Lions at their weekly luncheon in the Conway hotel Monday noon. He decried the efforts of politicians and trouble makers to change the basic law of the country, declaring this effort constituted a menace to the American people.

Lions can do a great service to their community and to the nation by guiding public opinion and there is need for a public demand that the nation keep in the path laid down by the constitution, Mr. Keller said.

"Public opinion rules in America; public opinion can get action," the speaker declared. "There never was a greater need than now for a public opinion which will keep the country in the right path as marked by the constitution."

Lions were urged to spend their leisure time studying American history and American institutions so they will be better judges of the efforts that are made to traduce famous Americans and to make changes in the basic law of the land.

Mr. Keller condemned the efforts that are being made to rewrite American history, declaring that the men who wrote of the times in which they lived had all the facts at their command and there is no reason now to argue that these men did not know what they were writing about.

Ben Rohan, president of the club, will be its representative at the international convention of Lions clubs at Atlantic City, N. J. Dr. Earle Baker had been elected delegate but is unable to attend, and Mr. Rohan, who also was elected, will take his place. It was decided to send but one delegate although the club is entitled to two on the basis of membership.

DONNELLY ARRIVES TO BECOME CITY ENGINEER

R. M. Donnelly of Fort Wayne, Ind., has arrived in Appleton prepared to assume his duties as city engineer of Appleton to which office he was elected by the common council a few weeks ago. Mr. Donnelly and family are staying with his father-in-law, John Brill, proprietor of the Hotel Northern. He will be placed in charge officially on June 15, although he probably will work a few days before then with O. F. Weissgerber, retiring engineer.

RUSH ASSESSMENT WORK TO FINISH

County And City Boards Of Review Will Meet Within About Two Weeks

Assessors throughout the county are working hard to complete their annual assessment before the date of the meetings of the boards of review. The town and village boards of review will meet on June 25, or the last Monday in June, while the city boards of equalization will meet on July 2, or the first Monday in July.

The meetings will open at 10 o'clock in the respective municipal halls and are to continue all day or until the work is completed. If the assessors have not completed their work by that time, the meetings will be adjourned from day to day. Meetings may also be adjourned so as to allow Anton Oppegard, acting assessor of incomes, to attend at his convenience.

Boards will examine the assessments and make adjustments where they are found necessary. It is important that those property owners who have complaint to make be present at the meetings. No redress can be obtained in court unless the aggrieved property owner attends the meeting of the board of review. Persons in doubt about their assessments should inquire about them of their assessor before that date.

HEARING JUNE 18 ON ZONE CHANGES

Ordinance Committee Considering Change Of Height To 90-Feet

Two amendments to the Appleton zoning ordinance will be considered at the public hearing to be conducted in the council chambers of the city hall the evening of June 18.

One amendment is to change the height limitation of buildings on College-ave from 65 feet to 90 feet; the other is to change part of block 2, Clark's addition, Fifth ward, from the residence district to the commercial and light manufacturing district.

The hearing will be conducted by the council's committee on ordinances to whom the amendments have been referred.

Flappers Blossom Out Soon With Sandals Like Old King Tut Favored

Bright Colors In Clothes With Egyptian Touch Will Feature The Novelty Clothes For Use This Summer

Old King Tut would feel flattered if he could only know all the stir his recent unearthing has caused among the nations of the civilized world. In fact his present popularity is much greater than in the days he held the sceptre and ruled over thousands of Egyptian slaves. He has become such an international figure now, so many years after his fascinating tomb was hewn out of rock that one has only to look at the dress, shoes, hat or even rings of m' lady to realize his popularity.

When the first announcement came of the opening of Tut Ahnkeh Amen's tomb, designers, dress goods manufacturers, pattern makers and others rushed to the scene, each trying to be the first to place something new and or'ginal on the market. The' were wise, for they knew one of the great failings of women, "something different, no matter what the cost." The result was beautiful Egyptian patterns in dress goods, expensive, but certainly unique; buckles with Egyptian figures; patterns to make one look like one of King Tut's fairest wives, and shoes the most recent addition to the world of styles.

Because it is nearly summer and because old Tut is getting more popular as time goes on, sandals are now occupying the center of attention as a mose necessary article in the summer wardrobe. They come in all shades, red, blue, green and yellow, in kid, satin and suedes. Black parent leather ones also are seen but the more popular variety is the softer leather in tans, browns, greys and yellow. The brighter shades will be worn with sport outfits but as Appleton must neccessarily be more conservative than Chicago not many are being shown.

Dress shoes also carry the Egyptian influence as they are cut low almost to the sole in places and have numerous straps and slits. Sandals are made in various patterns: some are simple with merely a tongue extending from the vamp of the shoe to the strap fastening it to the ankle, others have many straps, some are extremely low and still others are so cut up that they look very much like the ancient ones King Tut must have worn when the weather was hot and he needed something to protect just the bottom of his feet.

Hosiery for the summer as well as shoes, comes in vivid colors to match the dresses or to form a contrast with the general color of the gown and match the trimmings. Sport and dress hose alike spurn the staple colors and go trailing off into all sorts of tints and shades of everything in the rainbow. Some are dainty, but a great many are vivid. Green, periwinkle, red, rose, orchid, orange and blue are popular shades and as the season advances will predominate and form quite a contrast with the more somber shades.

CAMP GRANT TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., training place of thousands of former service men of the middlewest, is going to the scrap heap Monday, June 18. On that day 1,560 buildings, untilities and improvements are to be sold at the auctioneer's block, by order of the secretary of war.

The sale will begin at 10 o'clock at the Liberty theater on the grounds. Further information is to be obtained from the quarter master at Camp Grant, or the quartermaster, general intermediate depot, Chicago, or from Parker L. Crouch, auctioneer, Nelson hotel, Rockford.

BUYS 48-FOOT FRONTAGE IN COLLEGE-AVE RAVINE

One of the lots in the big ravine on the north side of College-ave west of Superior-st has changed owners with the purchase of a parcel of land of 48 foot frontage and 156 foot depth from Carrie Tollefson by A. L. Kiss. The purchase was for speculation only, it is understood, and was for a private consideration. The deal was made through Laabs & Shepherd.

WANTS PROPERTY OWNERS TO BEAR WATER MAIN COST

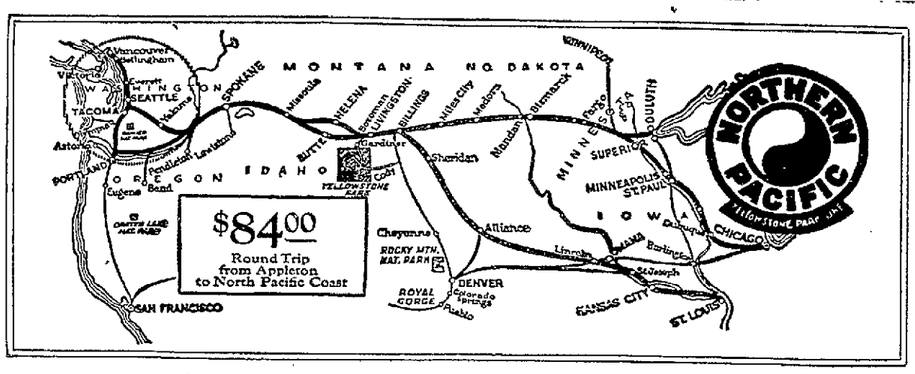

Mayor Favors Policy Of Special Assessment To Abutting Property

A movement has been started by Mayor Henry Reuter for adoption of a policy to levy special assessments against owners of properties abutting on proposed water mains. The expense of installation would be borne by the benefited property owners, just as it is borne by those who have the benefit of other public improvements, such as sewers, sidewalks and pavements.

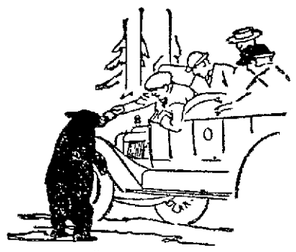

It was learned by him through Theodore Berg, city attorney, that the general charter law under which Appleton is now operating gives cities authority to levy assessments against abutting properties. It is also believed that a city ordinance already exists providing for just that procedure. In that case, all required is that the council go through with the enforcement of the ordinance, otherwise passage of such an ordinance will be requested by the mayor.

A number of applications for water mains in unimproved territory has led the mayor to believe that the time is ripe for action that will remove a part of the city's burden for construction of mains.

YELLOWSTONE PARK is wonderful—WONDERFUL! But it is not all there is to see in the Northern Pacific Country. Go further west—to Helena, Butte, Missoula, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland—right to the Oregon-Washington coast, where the sun sinks into the sea.

Seaside and Gearhart, Oregon; Moclips and North Beach, Washington — you cannot imagine pleasanter places to spend a part or all of the summer. Golf; smooth, sandy beaches that extend for miles; bathing; a climate which is as nearly perfect as it would be if you had the ordering of it, yourself; and the most glorious sunsets in the world—what more could you ask?

You are almost never out of sight—and sound—of rivers.

Note, too, that this summer, the Northern Pacific offers extremely low rates to the big cities and resorts along its line. These special rates are little more than half those ordinarily in effect.

APPRENTICES IN SKILL TRADES

Telegrams from Cleveland attribute to Mr. Thomas L. Preece, vice president of the International Union of Bricklayers, a promise that his organization will approve any apprentice school system that is acceptable to any arbitration committee of local unions and contractors. His statement resulted from a conference of architects, contractors and bricklayers on the labor shortage.

This is one of the most interesting industrial developments in many years, and is decidedly more far-reaching and significant than it superficially seems to be. There is an acute shortage in many of the skilled trades, but it is most noticeable in the construction industry at the present time on account of the extensive building operations.

The apprentice system still prevails in Europe in its old-fashioned form, but it was practically abolished in this country years ago. Labor has carefully limited the number of apprentices in most skilled trades. In doing so it has benefitted labor by raising wage levels, yet the stage has been reached where the curtailment plan may react to the detriment of organized labor.

Too rigorous restriction of apprenticeship is at the bottom of much of the labor trouble of the past few years, and labor could well afford to be less strict. On the other hand, it would be a mistake, economically and sociologically, to open the door too wide. Numerically, the skilled trades have not kept pace with the growth of industry. Apprenticeship should be so regulated as to increase the number of skilled workmen in coordination with the demand for labor.

ONE BIG POWER SYSTEM

America already leads the world in the extensive use of electricity, but if the ambitious plan announced by Frank C. Baum, San Francisco hydro-electric engineer, is adopted, this county will have placed itself a full century ahead of the old world and a saving of millions of dollars a year to industrial establishments and transportation line will have been realized. The plan includes the electrifying of every railroad, street transportation line, factory and power using plant into one immense system.

To the lay mind the scientific explanation of the manner in which the electrifying would be accomplished is confusing. But compare it with the simple wiring of a house, in which all wires lead to the central power unit, and then vision this house as the whole of the United States with the wires running from room to room extending from state to state. A system of 220,000 volt transmission lines would convey this incalculable energy from one center of population to another in a surer and a cheaper and a more satisfactory way than electricity now is transmitted, subject, as it is, to different conditions.

The project, in Dr. Baum's mind, and in the minds of other authorities in the electric world, would realize an annual income of $1,000,000,000 in five years, paying the cost of its installation. But perhaps the greatest benefit that would be derived would be the standardization of rates for power uses, making it possible for the little community lost in the mountains to secure adequate electricity as cheaply as the larger city.

A SMILE AS A CLEW

Can a smile be listed as a tangible mark of identification? Police authorities of Illinois have no other clew to the identity of a young woman who shot down a man in the presence of his wife save a "peculiar smile" which she flashed during the tragedy.

There are many types of smiles, some of them easy of classification, some others almost as baffling as the famous, enigmatic grimace of Mona Lisa. Smiles differ in character under differing circumstances: a smile may be an open book or a closed page.

Johnny Kilbane, going down to defeat in the pugilistic ring, to cite a recent example of smiling, wore a grin that the critics said foretold his defeat. Convicts and heroes face death with smiles; tired mothers and crippled children smile, and their smiles are unusual and distinctive. History and folklore are filled with incidents in which the smile was a marked feature.

We should like to know more about the smile this death dealing young woman wore. It was not a cold smile, seemingly, nor horrible. It was just "peculiar." We hope, of course, the murderess is captured but we should like to know whether she can be caught solely upon recognition of her smile. At any event, when she is captured, we are sure to know all about this peculiar smile and what there is about it that impressed itself upon the witness to the exclusion of all else of her being.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES IN THE SCHOOLS

Among many intensely ardent citizens the decision of the United States supreme court, declaring unconstitutional the statutes of twenty-one states prohibiting the teaching of alien languages in the schools, may seem to be a rebuff to Americanization. But they need not grieve over the decision, as its effects will be thoroughly American.

It is not foreign language that impairs loyalty, but foreign and radical ideas. American principles can be taught in any language. Sufficient is it for the children to learn the English tongue; that is the one they will use, as it is the speech of business and society. Mastering more languages will make them, as the court says, more proficient.

Acquisition of knowledge does not lead to disloyalty. On the contrary, the most serious danger to republicanism is ignorance. It is better to let citizens have freedom in seeking knowledge than to restrict freedom and narrow the bounds of knowledge.

What our children must learn and also immigrants, are American principles. All should know the constitution and Declaration of Independence. All should be imbued with our national ideas.

PSYCHOLOGY OF POLITICS

Mr. Henry Ford now leads President Harding in the popularity poll which Collier's is conducting through its agents in all parts of the country. So far 86,000 votes have been cast, and President Harding and Ford together have received only half of them. Mr. Ford is the favorite of 21,734 balloters and President Harding of 20,130.

Nothing so variable as public opinion, which may be verred completely round in an instant. The man who is most heartily acclaimed at sunrise may be without a supporter by sunset. This is the way of politics, for it is psychology, generally cultivated artificially, that decides elections.

It is not too soon to discuss possibilities for the next presidential campaign, but it is much too early to make specific selections or reliable predictions. Psychology is to play a most important part in the next election, with oratory, literature, campaigning and partisan effort. Psychology may not choose the winners, but it probably will designate the losers.

Staging a comeback is seldom a pleasant trip.

Doing nothing is hard to finish.

It takes two to start a fight and too long to stop it.

It is a wise drinking man who marries a trained nurse.

Many a get rich quick plan ends in getting poor quick.

An optimist is a man who gets tickled at what a hard time he has.

The man who thinks he knows everything doesn't know what he thinks.

What most of us had rather be doing instead of what we are doing during spring is anything else.

Making love doesn't take as long as once did, and it doesn't seem to last as long.

T. B. AND THE WEATHER-PHOBIA

In the course of his narrative "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis In My Own Home," as originally published in the Journal of the Outdoor Life for June, 1921, and subsequently issued without many changes by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit and Wayne county, 316 Jefferson-ave, Detroit, Michigan, as a pamphlet free to residents of Wayne county, five cents a copy to other persons, Mr. J. E. Stocker tells many of the secrets, or more accurately speaking, the truths upon which a successful fights against this most common of all serious diseases may be waged anywhere.

I have already quoted several of these truths which are available to readers of Mr. Stocker's story. One was to the effect that recovery is best assured by having the regular attendance and guidance in all things of a good doctor—medicine or no medicine. Too many who lose through their own unawareness, "let doctors and medicines alone."

Another truth which Mr. Stocker's experience teaches is that rest is the most powerful ally the tuberculosis patient has. Although the patient in this instance learned the importance of rest before it was too late, I fear the ordinary tuberculosis patient is more difficult to teach—he knows so many things "which ain't so."

It seems almost as difficult to make a tuberculosis patient understand and avail himself of the great aid of rest in his battle as it is to impart to the layman the rudiments of sanitary or surgical asepsis.

Here is another great truth which Mr. Stocker's story and experience bring out:

"The knowledge that winter weather was not injurious to a tuberculosis patient has resulted in my losing all fear of the changing weather conditions and so-called 'bad weather' no longer makes me feel gloomy or depressed. I go out in all sorts of weather (remember the disease is now arrested) except in heavy storms or rains, but I see to it that I am dressed properly, wearing rubbers or raincoat as the occasion may require. I believe that the fact that I had lost all fear of the weather changes aided my recovery as much as any one other thing, except the prolonged rest in bed."

Weather-phobia, which is a kind of twentieth century modification of the nineteenth century night-air bogy, is a powerful predisposing or contributing factor of many or all of the respiratory infections, including tuberculosis. It is painful to acknowledge that some of our public health guardians are still doing their darnedest to prop up this bogy and keep the laity frightened by it. Let a spell of what meteorologists designate "inclement" weather happen round and the ordinary city health officer tosses away his statistical data, scientific facts and plain sense, and gives out a "statement" warning the laity to be careful to avoid exposure to the weather.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Answer—The tasteless is not more injurious than ordinary castor oil.

Smoking And Chewing

Are smoking and chewing tobacco really injurious to the health, whether the user is young or old? Do you think tobacco should be abolished?—Miss K. P.

Answer—Smoking or chewing tobacco often injures the health. I do not think tobacco should be abolished.

Let's Compromise On Pale Green

Your retort to "S. W. G." about the colors for babies . . . "blue is for girls, true enough. In olden times, before modern means for communication, it was a custom to hang a "tidy" in the window, a blue one if it was a girl baby, a pink one if it was a boy.—Mrs. L. L. M.

Answer—Then everybody to his own taste. I know what color I'd hang out and I've assigned that color for girls. I am always willing to abate a jot or title to please readers.

New Light On Old Problem Of Origin Of Life

(From The Scientific Monthly.)

Was the first living being a plant or animal? How could either originate out of nonexisiting matter?

These are questions that have hitherto baffled scientists. They could trace back, more or less satisfactorily, the lines of development of plants and animals to the simplest and most primitive forms of life, but there they ran up against an insurmountable wall, on the near side of which was the world living organisms and on the far side the world of inert mineral and inorganic matter.

We all know that nonliving matter can be converted over into living matter, for we do that ourselves whenever we eat or breathe. We all know that green plants have the power of building up sugar and starch and wood (the so-called carbohydrates) out of the water of the soil and carbon dioxide of the air for we can see them do it any sunny day. But it is life only that can bring into living organism this inorganic material. Water and carbon dioxide, plain "soda water," do not spontaneously change over into sugar or start to grow into a plant. It requires green colored granules of the leaves, called chlorophyl, to effect this transformation.

But chlorophyl is a very complicated chemical compound. It is formed only by green plants as they develop in the sun's rays from white sprouts. So the plant must exist before chlorophyl is formed. But, on the other hand, a plant could not exist unless it got its energy from the sugar and other stuff stored up previously by some chlorophyl-bearing plant. Even the simplest green plant cannot live and grow on its nutritive salts in the sunshine unless it has a bit of plant-stuff to feed on as a starter.

We might surmise as a way out of the dilemma that animal life came first on the earth, and, in decaying, supplied the primitive plants with the necessary organic foodstuff. But here we are blocked because animals are parasites of plants. They live on the sugars and so forth that the green leaves have stored up by means of sunshine.

So this was the perplexing situation. Plants can feed on animals or other plants. Animals can feed on plants or other animals. But where could the first animals or plants get their food when there was nothing but mineral matter in the world? It was worse than the old question, which came first, the hen or the egg?

But of late we are beginning to get light on the problem. The wall between the living and nonliving is crumbling. Certain sugars and proteins, such as the plant forms that we eat, can now be made in the laboratory out of inorganic material. Artificial cells have been constructed that grow and crawl and feed themselves and stick out feelers and subdivide very much like living cells. It has been found that ultra-violet rays, that is, light of such short waves that it cannot be seen, can convert water and carbon dioxide into sugar as chlorophyl does.

These short-waves are not contained in the sunshine that reaches the earth today but it is found that ordinary rays may act the same way in the presence of certain substances such as iron rust in water. These same energetic rays are able to incorporate the nitrogen of mineral salts into compound like the protein of the living cell. So here we see the possibility that the action of the sunlight on the sea in primordial periods—or even in the present—might produce sufficient food to give a single cell a start in life and enable it to grow and multiply and develop into other and higher forms.

But how this primal cell got to going in this way the biologists are only beginning to surmise. Dr. E. J. Allen, at a recent meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, ventures the theory that the first organism was of the animal sort and spherical shape, but that it gradually grew a tail or whip that enabled it to raise to the sunny surface of the sea whenever it sank below and that it there acquired the chlorophyl by which it could make its own food out of the air and water. This is far from knowing what did happen in those early days but it is a great advance to be able even to speculate as to how it might have happened, since not many years ago it seemed that it could not happen at all.

Sudan Showing Rapid Growth

(From The Pathfinder.)

An English party under Lord Dewar making a 2,500-mile trek across the Sudan to Belgian Congo discovered, among other things, that the population has doubled in 20 years while the big game of the country is fast disappearing.

Traveling 40 days by camel and 17 by donkey the party was in constant danger from natives, from the climate and from animals among which may be counted the mosquito which laid up Lord Dewar for two weeks. Two Nile lechwy, rare animals also knows as Mrs. Gray's water buck, were killed—the limit allowed by law to one person during a lifetime. The party was prevented from bagging a huge rhinoceros by a battle of two tribes of natives in which 52 were killed and many wounded.

The Sudan now has about 5,000,000 people and in some spots the finest cotton in the world is raised. Natives eat roots, berries, insects and such animals as lizards, white ants and dried caterpillars. A favorite dish is matoka made of carefully prepared banana flour. No girl may expect to find a husband unless she is skilled at making matoka.

Four Civil War Veterans Remain In Town Of Dale

Special to Post-Crescent

Dale—Only four Civil war veterans remain in the town of Dale to take part in Memorial day and other ceremonies. They are Solomon Rhoades, Orrin Scoufeldt, Lawrence Linton and Philip Hauk, all of whom were present with Gen Sherman on his famous "march to the sea."

Mr. Rhoades and Mr. Linton enlisted in August, 1862 at Medina, in Company I, Wisconsin volunteers and served to the close of the war. They were bunkmates during the entire fighting period. Twenty men enlisted on that nineteenth day of August, and only those two are living.

Mr. Rhoades is 81 years old but looks like a much younger man. He came to Wisconsin from New York in 1854 and lives at Medina.

Mr. Linden lives with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Voight, west of Dale. He was born in Germany 84 years ago and came to Wisconsin in 1842. He walked from Milwaukee to Medina in 1856, and still is able to hike many miles. He often comes to town afoot instead of depending on his horse.

Orrin Shufelt came to Wisconsin from Vermont when ten years old. This was in 1854. He enlisted at Oshkosh in Company D, Thirty-second regulars, and served to the close of the war. He returned to his home, then at Omro, and came to Medina 22 years ago. He is one of the leading apiarists of the county, devoting his time to 200 colonies of bees.

The history of Philip Hauk is associated with the Twenty ninth Ohio volunteers. He enlisted in 1861 and was mustered out in 1865. The first battle in which he took part occurred March 23, 1862, and the last one March 23, 1865. The regiment went through three years of fighting with comparatively few casualties.

Mr. Hauk came to Wisconsin after the termination of the war and now makes his home with his son Milo at Dale. He is 81 years old.

Carnation Milk

"From Contented Cows"

The label is red and white

Biscuits—1 quart flour, 1 level teaspoonful salt, 2 heaping teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 large tablespoonful butter or fat, 6 tablespoonfuls Carnation Milk, 7 tablespoonfuls water, or enough to make a soft dough. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt into a bowl. Rub in with the hands the butter or lard until well mixed. Add Carnation Milk and water. Roll out about half an inch thick, cut, and bake in a quick oven 15 or 20 minutes. The secret of success in biscuit making is to have the ingredients cold, the mixture put together rapidly, and the oven the right temperature when the biscuits are entered.

For Flavoring Coffee—Use Carnation Milk undiluted. You will like the improvement in flavor and color—more economical than cream.

There are many other recipes as good as these in the Carnation Cook Book. Send for it.

'DANGER' PROVING WELL LIKED NOVEL

Grave Dangers To Civilization Are Shown In Popular Library Book

"Danger" by Ernest Poole has been the most popular novel at Appleton public library this week. It is a story of more significant character than any of Mr. Poole's books since "The Harbor" and "His Family" and is a moving story of today.

Through a series of incidents increasing in dramatic intensity to a climax of tremendous power, Mr. Poole deals with one of the grave dangers to present day civilization. Rarely has there appeared in fiction a more striking character than Maud Brewer, whose efforts in the interest of humanity are as persistent as they are misguided and ultimately bring the other members of the little circle with which she is identified face to face with a question of life or death.

Though this problem in the story is very specific, it is not at all difficult to generalize from it, nor to believe that Mr. Poole is thinking not of a family of individuals only but of that larger family of nations and of questions involving world relationships. However, whether the reader isees and accepts this parallel, his interest is certain to be held by a very stimulating and original piece of work.

The other fiction books which have been in greatest demand this last week have been "Wanderer of the Wasteland" by Grey and "Faint Perfume" by Gale. Both numbers have been among the most popular numbers for weeks and promise to remain there for sometime to come.

"The Life of Christ" by Papini is the most popular nonfiction book again this week. It is popular not only because it is written by a man who for years was an acknowledged atheist and it has been translated by Dorothy Canfield, one of the five greatst women novelists, but because of the merits of the work itself. The other nonfiction number is "Seeing the Eastern States" by Faris.

COURT HAD HEAVY CRIMINAL DOCKET IN MONTH OF MAY

Liquor And Speed Played Important Part In Municipal Convictions

The criminal dockets in the upper and lower branches of the municipal court were crowded last month. The upper branch had 2 convictions, the lower branch had 32. This number does not include the 14 cases of speeders arrested under the Appleton city ordinance.

Among the severest sentences were five years in the state penitentiary at Waupun for robbery, and six months in the county jail for illegal manufacture of intoxicating liquor. There were nine imprisonment sentences.

Of the $430 collected in fines, the county received $290 and the city $140. Court costs and sheriff's fees amounted to $133, while city officers' fees totalled $45.45.

Liquor played an important part in the cases. There were 12 cases of drunkenness; the penalties were a fine of $1 to $15, and jail sentences of 5 to 10 days. Of the five prohibition law violators, one was sentenced and then paroled for six months, one was committed to tuberculosis sanatorium, one received six months in county jail, and the other two received 60 and 30 days respectively in the workhouse. One drunken driver paid a fine of $25, another was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse.

Other convictions were as follows: Resisting an officer, 1; violation of fish and game laws, 2; driving without license, 1; catching rides on trains, 2; stoning trains, 2; slander, 1; violation of pure food act, 1; speeding 4; in addition to the 14 speeders apprehended by the Appleton motorcycle officer.

ON THE SCREEN

PARISIAN AND NEW YORK STYLES WORN BY PLAYERS IN "FAMOUS MRS FAIR.

The latest whims of fashion are shown by the feminine members of the cast of the Fred Niblo Production, "The Famous Mrs. Fair," based on the great American play by James Forbes, now at the Elite Theatre. Myrtle Stedman, Marguerite De La Motte, Helen Ferguson and Carmel Myers wear several wraps and gowns that are stunning creations.

One of the capes worn by Miss Stedman is an evening wrap of platinum gray hare, a Parisian novelty that is quite distinctive. Another beautiful wrap worn by the same actress is a luxurious cape of ermine, cut on flaring, circular lines and trimmed with ermine tails.

Marguerite De La Motte likewise wears several charming costumes. One of the capes which she wears is of white hare, the new Parisian fur which is very chic. The lining of the wrap is of white georgette. Another is a rich seal fur coat, very long and wide, trimmed with skunk. A distinctive cape of beaver coney is novel not only because of the unusual cross-bar effect in which the fur is arranged, but also because its lining is of rich brown velvet, embroidered in bronze, making it possible to wear the cape reversed if desired.

"The Famous Mrs. Fair" is a Metro-Louis B. Mayer production.

5,000,000 Members In Building-Loan Bodies

Herbert Hoover Calls These Associations True People's Banks

A building and loan association is a mutual co-operative money saving and money loaning institution, loaning only on first mortgage real estate security of the members; chartered, controlled and supervised by the state government. They are prepared and willing to assist in educating people how to acquire and own their homes.

In the United States there are between 8,000 and 9,000 associations, having a membership of more than 5,000,000 members, with accumulated savings of over $2,500,000,000. More than 1,000,000 homes have been financed through them.

HAVE DUAL FUNCTION

The functions of building and loan associations are two-fold: They teach thrift and systematic saving of money, they encourage their members to own their homes.

The whole institution is founded upon the principle of co-operation.

The saving members receive their fair proportion of the interest their money has earned, generally from 5 to 7 per cent per annum, depending upon the terms of deposit and local loaning rates. Interest is compounded so that the saving members have a safe, convenient and continuing place in which to deposit savings monthly or weekly at the highest rate of interest consistent with absolute safety. The saving and borrowing member becomes a saving member to repay his loan

TRUE PEOPLE'S BANK

How do these associations differ from banks and are they competitors?

Frankly, they are a type of co-operative bank. Herbert Hoover called them "true people's banks." They do compete with the banks in seeking the systematic savings of the people. But the money is immediately deposited by the association in some bank and as quickly as possible is loaned largely for building purposes.

There is also a great difference in the methods of loaning. Bank loans are usually made one a one, two or three-year term—the short mortgage business. The building and loan association generaly on six, eight or ten year terms.

FOLIAGE INTERFERES

Did you ever think of the trees about your home, as interfering with your radio reception?

That's a fact, according to a writter in a recent issue of Popular Radio.

And that's why radio reception in summer is so much more difficult than in winter.

"The increased foliage of the trees," says this writer, "brings about an increased absorption of radio energy, and this permits less of it to reach the actual antennas. Each tree acts virtually as an antenna, and the district becomes too 'crowded' for good radio work.

Besides this, he gives two other reasons why radio work in summer is more difficult than in winter. These are:

"1. The brighter solar light in summer ionizes the atmosphere and causes a 'dampening' of radio energy.

"2. There is more interference due to static in summer than in winter.

So far as rain and winds are concerned, however, this writer says, these give little interference, if any. Collection of water on the insulators may cause leakage, but this is the fault of the insulators. And the wind may cause the antenna to sway, making it more difficult to tune in.

But that is all trouble the wind and rain might give.

ERECT BUILDINGS IN FORESTRY CAMP

Bullock's Enterprise In Vilas-co Is Most Novel In Middlewest

Construction of buildings for Camp Mishike (The Turtle) in Vilas-co is now well underway and everything will be complete for the opening on July 1, according to Warren E. Bullock, who was formerly with the Appleton Crescent.

Mr. Bullock is associated with W. E. Sanderson, camp director, and Dr. Hugh P. Baker, secretary of the American Paper and Pulp Association, in the operation of the first boys' forestry camp east of the Alleghany mountains.

The former Appleton man spent his honeymoon on a canoe trip through the many lakes of Vilas-co and every year since he has gone back there on his vacation. He will lead the boys in camp on canoe trips in the county which contains 1,600 of the 7,000 lakes of Wisconsin. The woodcraft camp is located on a tract of 1,500 acres of land. It is expected that several Appleton boys will enroll. Application can be made to Mr. Bullock at Winchester.

The "Universal" Vacuum Cleaner

Does Away With Brushes Entirely

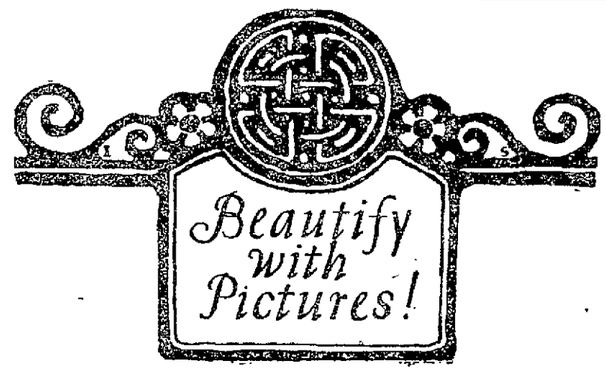

The new "Universal" Vacuum Cleaner possesses many special features. We lay stress on the motor, the most powerful built for the purpose, which gives to the patented, brushless nozzle the greatest suction of any portable cleaner now made. On both sides of the nozzle mouth are thread catchers, with air spaces between so that the air is powerfully whirled in from both sides as well as up through the carpet. This action blows thread, lint, etc., from the thread catchers up into the bag together with whatever dust an ddirt is on the surface or in the carpet.

The disadvantage of the brush type cleaner has long been recognized. It is unsanitary, hard and disagreeable to clean, easy to get out of order and destructive of rugs and carpets. Powerful air suction does the work—and does it twice as thoroughly.

"She's a glorious rider," the first speaker was saying. "She passed me the other day, going like sin, with her face blazing and that big, lively chestnut running flat. The way she took that curve about the Devil's Slide brought my heart into my mouth."

The breathless eavesdropper felt a hot wave of delight pour over her, her very flesh seemed to ripple like the fur of a cat when it is stroked.

"Oh, she's a picture, mounted!" Seems to have complete confidence in herself, and the strength of a giantess, too. But—my God! when she's on her feet! And have you heard her talk?" Evidently the other speaker had, for there came the sound of low laughter, a sound that stabbed Allie Briskow like a bayonet and left her white and furious.

She was unusually silent and somber for the next three or four days, she went through her exercises without vim; at her studies she was both stupid and sullen. When Mrs. Ring's patience was exhausted and her frayed nerves finally gave out, Allie rounded upon her with a violence unparalleled.

In a panic Mrs. Ring sought out Gus Briskow and again resigned. By this time, however, the novelty of her resignation had largely worn off, for seldom did more than two weeks elapse without a hysterical threat to quit. Gus decided, after some consideration, to wire Calvin Gray and offer to pay his traveling expenses if he would come to Burlington Notch for a few days.

CHAPTER XIV

ALLIE SHOWS HER TEETH

One accomplishment that Allegheny mastered with gratifying ease was dancing. It came naturally to her, for both she and Buddy were full of music.

Having schooled her in the simpler forms of ballroom dancing, Delamater suggested a course in the deeper intricacies of fancy dancing.

"You're getting on," he told her, one day. "The last was splendid—top hole—absolutely."

It was on that afternoon that Delamater had told the clerk of discovering Ma Briskow alone in the woods. There was an open golf tournament at the Notch, prominent amateurs and professionals were competing and the hotel was crowded to its capacity with players, fashionable followers of the game and a small army of society reporters and sport writers.

Delamater was especially agreeable today, more than usually flattering. Not for some time did his scholar become conscious of the subtle change in his demeanor.

They had become well acquainted by now and were on a basis of easy familiarity, nevertheless it came as a shock to Allie to be called by her first name—such a shock that she missed a step and trod on Delamater's foot. They came to a pause.

The dancing master was tall and slim, his face was on a level with hers, and now he smiled into it, saying, "My mistake, my dear."

"I—reckon it was." The girl's eyes were glowing queerly, and the man was amused at her evident agitation. Her first word had thrown the poor thing into a flurry.

They began to dance again, and after a moment, with a gently rising inflection, Delamater murmured, "You heard what I called you?" He approved of the sachet that Allie used, and he became acutely conscious of the jewels resting in the palm of his left hand. "You don't care?" he said, with his lips close to her ear.

"Humph! I'm not caring for anything or anybody today."

It is the lot of any man in the heat of his desire to make mistakes and Delamater erred gravely at this moment. He kissed Allie. Without warning he kissed her full and fair upon her red, half-open lips.

For the briefest instant of amazement the two stood motionless in the middle of the polished floor while the phonograph brayed on; then Allie shook herself free of her partner and in the same movement she smote him a mighty slap that sent him reeling.

With a cry he scrambled to his feet. "What the hell—?" he growled, savagely.

Allie's face was chalky. Breathlessly, curiously, she inquired, "What'd you do that for?"

"What did I do it for? Say! You ought to be complimented—tickled to death." Delamater rubbed his cheek and glared at her. "By God! I wish you were a man. Oh, don't worry, I won't touch you again! Who the hell would, after that?" Allie opened her lips to speak, but he ran on more angrily as the pain bit into him. "Thought I meant it, eh? Why, you lumbering ox—"

"Then you ain't—in love with me or—ar anything?"

"Love?" The speaker uttered an unpleasant sound indicative of scorn. "Wake up, sister! What d'you take me for? Why you mother talks bird talk, and your dad lives in a box stall and eats oats with his knife! Here I kid you along a little but—slip you a kiss, as I would any girl, and you—you—" Delamater stuttered impotently. "Love? I guess I'm the first regular fellow that ever gave you a chance."

Delamater was surprised when his pupil turned her back upon him, strode to the nearby window, and flung it open as if for air; his surprise deepened when she faced him again and moved in his direction. Her expression caused him to utter a profane warning, but she continued to bear down upon him, and when she reached out to seize him he struck at her as he would have struck at a man.

To those who are familiar with Burlington Notch, it will be remembered that the hotel is pitched upon a slope and that the rooms on the first floor of the east wing are raised a considerable distance above the lawn. The windows of these east rooms overlook the eighteenth green, and during tournaments they are favorable vantage points of golf widows and enthusiasts who are too old to follow the competitors around the course. Today they were filled, for an international title was at issue and Herring, prince of amateurs, was playing off the final round of his match with the dour Scotch professional, McLeod.

A highly enthusiastic "gallery" accompanied the pair, a crowd composed not only of spectators, but also of officials, defeated players, newspaper writers, camera men, caddies, and the like.

Out of the air overhead came the sound of a disturbance, and every face turned. A most amazing thing was in the way of happening, a phenomenon unique in the history of tournaments, for a man was being thrust forth from one of the hotel windows, perhaps twenty-five feet above the ground—a writhing, struggling, kicking man with fawn-colored spats. He was being ejected painlessly but firmly, and by a girl—a grim-faced young woman of splendid proportions. For a moment she allowed him to dangle; then she dropped him into a handsome Dorothy Perkins rosebush. He landed with a shriek. Briefly the amazon remained framed in the casement, staring with dark defiance down into the upturned faces; her deep bosom was heaving, her smoky hair was slightly disarranged; she allowed her eyes to rest upon the figure entangled among the thorns beneath her, then she closed the window.

Mrs. Ring was waiting on the veranda for Gus Briskow when he returned to the hotel about dark. He had learned to dread the sight of her on that veranda, for it was her favorite resigning place—what Gus called her "quitting spot," and it was evident tonight that she was in a quitting mood, a mood more hysterical than ever before. It was some time before he could get at the facts and even then he could not fully appreciate the enormity of the disgrace that had overwhelmed Allie's instructress.

"She chucked the dancin' teacher out of a winder?" he repeated, blankly. "What for?"

"Goodness knows, Mr. Briskow! Something he said, or did—I couldn't make out precisely. I found her in a dreadful state, and I tried to comfort her. I did really, but—oh! If you could have heard her! Where she learned such language I don't know. My ears burn! But that isn't the worst; you should hear what—"

"He must of said something pretty low down," Briskow spoke quietly, his bright blue eyes were hard. "I reckon she'll tell me."

"You don't understand," chattered the woman. "She flung the man bodily out of the window and into a bed of thorns. It nearly killed him; he was painfully lacerated and bruised and— Right in the middle of a golf game! It did something dreadful—I don't know what—just as the world's champion caught the ball, or something."

"If he's crippled I'll get him that much easier," said Briskow, and at the purposeful expression upon his weather-beaten face Mrs. Ring uttered a faint bleat of terror. She pawed at him as he undertook to pass her.

"Oh, my heavens! What are you going to do?"

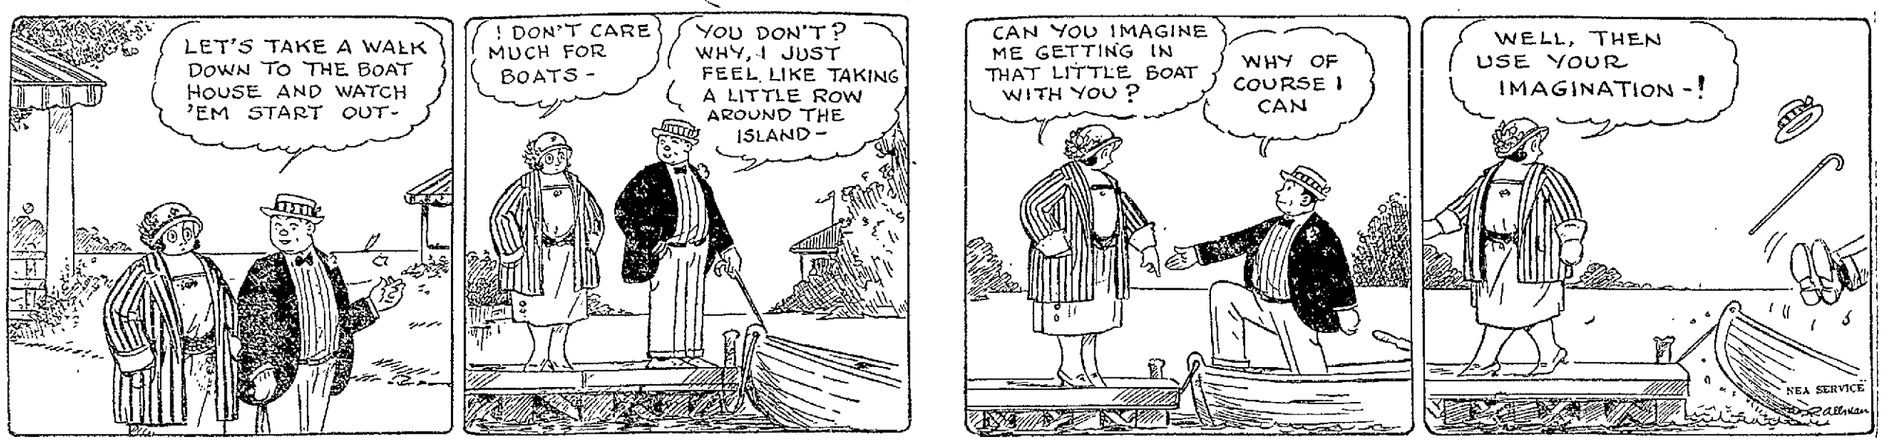

"Depends on what he said to Allie."

The woman wrung her hands. "What people! What — savages! You're going to shoot him, I suppose, just because—"

STOP DRIVING OUT INDUSTRIES, SAYS FORMER GOVERNOR

Philipp Speaks During City Park Band Concert—Predicts Readjustment

Tendency of the Wisconsin legislature to tear down the industrial prosperity of the state and drive away its industries through burdensome taxation was rapped by E. L. Philipp of Milwaukee, former Republican governor of Wisconsin, in his address during the band concert at City park Monday night.

He predicted also that the day is not far distant when prices will fall and a readjustment will come. He urged people to gradually adjust themselves to such a condition and lay something aside during the present wave of prosperity for this change.

Mr. Phillipp is president of Milwaukee Association of Commerce and is a member of the Milwaukee booster delegation which arrived here at 5 o'clock aboard a special train enroute on a tour of Wisconsin in the interests of boosting the Cream City. An audience of several thousand people had gathered at the City park to hear his talk and the Milwaukee band concert. He was introduced by Mayor Henry Reuter.

"I recall the time," said the former governor, "when the upbuilding of industry was the chief business of Wisconsin. You people showed your interest, because you supported everything that would help industry. You supported the tariff and so did the farmer, because he wanted a market. We got the industries, but we want more.

ASK FAIR TREATMENT

"But," said the speaker, "these industries like to be fairly treated so they will grow and prosper. A disposition has grown up within a certain element in this state to oppose the industries, to fight them, yea even to exterminate them and legislate them out of existence. If you don't want our great state to lose its industries, you have got to help stop this eternal persecution of business. Many states are holding out their hands and would welcome these industries.

"The great quarrel is on taxation. Every business is willing to pay its share of taxation to help build up the commonwealth and to educate the children, but when the state puts a blanket over business as a whole and takes all the profit, it is another matter. There is no great cry for tax reforms and there won't be if no change is made. What we want is a tax bill without reference to politics or pocket, but built on fairness to all. People who are honest with themselves and their children would not make industry pay the whole bill for the schooling of the young. They are willing to do their share.

"Industry is about to be sacrificed by the politicians now serving the state. Instead of driving out our great enterprises, we ought to hold out our hands in welcome and bring in new industries."

LEVELING DAY COMING

The leveling day for high prices is not far off and farm labor costs will not be so excessive. Rent, fuel, clothing and the necessities of life will be cheaper. There must be a gradual adjustment to a new condition and the people must meet it with composure.

"All is chaos in the balance of the world," the former state executive declared, "and the misfortunes will be passed around. Now is the time to lay by something."

The audience was told to bear with the business man, who was limited as to the price he could get for his goods, depending on his costs. None should insist on unreasonable things he said, and legislation cannot be depended upon to change conditions. When the drop comes everything will be done in fairness and right.

"But be careful," said the speaker. "Don't dig a a grave that you will fall into. Don't bring on your own misfortunes. Above all, don't be fooled by oily politicians who offer to right your wrongs. Be cautious and do what is best for the whole country."

Mr. Philipp talked against government ownership of railroads, showing how the little country of Switzerland, with its close contact with federal railroad enterprises, could not make them go and the systems now are bankrupt.

John Hurst Is Only Pioneer Left Of Group Which Founded Osborn

BY W. F. WINSEY

Only one man remains of a small group of pioneers who had a desire for an independent livelihood and homes of their own, and who left the neighborhood of their kindred to penetrate the dense woods of what was once part of Seymour but now is the town of Osborn. This survivor of the struggles with trees, logs, stumps, brush and a soil reluctant to expose its treasures to cultivation is John Hurst. He is able to describe vividly the hardships endured and the rewards afterward enjoyed.

The work these and other men did in felling large oak, maple, elm and basswood trees of the vicinity of Osborn, chopping, hauling, piling and burning the logs, digging out stumps, breaking the land with no better tools than axes, handspikes, spades and ox-drawn travois, carts, jumpers and crude plows, no man can conceive but one who has done such work himself or has seen it done by others.

After these men had cleared away the heavy timber of Osborn, they sowed their grain by hand, kept the weeds in subjection by hand, cut the grain, raked it by hand, bound it by hand, stacked it by hand, thrashed it by hand and often carried loads on their backs to market. The sickle, the cradle, the scythe, the handrake and the flail of those early days have been displaced by the binder, the mower, the horserake and the steam thresher and the present-day farmer is unconscious of the change and the labor they save.

John Hurst is the last man living of that little band of pioneers who settled in the town of Osborn when he did.

Mr. Hurst left Hastings county, Canada with two brothers and five sisters in the spring of 1866 to join his father who has settled in the town of Osborn the preceding spring. This family group came direct to Appleton by rail. It took the driver of a yoke of oxen an entire day to move the family over a trail cut through the woods from Appleton to the father's farm in Osborn.

When the family arrived at its destination, Mr. Hurst found that Duncan McNabb, James Simpson, James Daniels, Watson Manley and John Knox were among the settlers preceding the Hurst's in Osborn. On the road to what is now the city of Seymour, were the Shepherd, Allen, Sewall and Harris and Hussman families.

At that time, what is now the city of Seymour consisted of one log shanty.

For four years before John Hurst settled on his present farm, he lumbered for the Whorton's of Appleton near Seymour. The first year after locating, he cleared and sowed 18 acres to winter wheat and the second year he cleared and sowed 20 acres more. At this rate, his clearing progressed and his production increased until his entire farm was under cultivation and he was considered one of the most prosperous farmers of Osborn.

For a number of years after Mr. Hurst's arrival in Osborn, a band of wild Indians built their wigwams and passed the winter in a sheltered spot beside a pond a short distance south of his farm. They hunted and fished for a living and made maple sugar each season.

For some time, Mr. Hurst marketed his farm produce and bought his provisions in Appleton. He often carried light produce and provisions on his back but the heavier loads were hauled by ox team.

Public Urged To Attend Citizenship Program At Courthouse Thursday

An audience that will fill the circuit court room is the goal set by the Americanization committee of Oney Johnston post of the American legion in its preparations for the reception of those who became naturalized citizens at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

Entry of foreigners into citizenship has not been the occasion of much more than the court ceremony itself in the past, but nothing is considered by the legion as more parctical Americanization work than this step. Each applicant who is given his papers therefore will be made to realize that this hour is the epoch in his life.

The legion asks the public to be at the courtroom to see the formalities and share in the program that follows. All organizations are asked to have some of their members there, especially those interested in citizenship activities. All legion members who can leave their employment also have been asked to attend.

Judge Edgar V. Werner and George N. Danielson, federal naturalization examiner, both are pleased with the special plans that are being made and are giving their cooperation in the program.

Charles C. Baker is to be the principal speaker. He was a candidate for citizenship himself several years ago when he came here from England and not only accepted allegiance to the American flag but went with the doughboys to France to defend it. He therefore will have a mesage that will contain a personal, sympathetic note. A welcome by Mayor Henry Reuter, musical numbers and presentation of flags to each new citizen by the Womens Relief corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, are included in the program.

HEALTH SERVICE URGES GOOD FOOD TO FIGHT T. B.

By Associated Press

Washington—One million people in the United States continuously are sick with tuberculosis, it is announced by the United States Public Health Service in a study on the predisposing cause of tuberculosis.

Children, particularly under the age of five years, are said to be most susceptible to infection. Attention is called to the fact that tubercle bacilli are capable of remaining virulent in the human body for many years and that an apparently healthy person may lose immunity to them. The Public Health Service states that one of the commonest causes of the development of tuberculosis is poor nourishment, adding that "the well fed resist tuberculosis well; the underfed yield readily."

The service recommends better food for young children; deplores the hasty breakfasts and lunches of business men; calls attention to the generally prevailing lack of knowledge of food values, and says that diet should be suited to the age of the individual.

W. E. Smith, J. E. Bond and George F. Werner of the Y. M. C. A. gospel team conducted the services at the Methodist church at Seymour Sunday evening before an audience that practically filled the edifice.

Scripture was read by Mr. Werner, who also led the singing. Mr. Bond gave a talk on service and W. E. Smith took for his theme, "As a Man Thinketh in his Heart So is He."

The Rev. G. W. Lester, pastor, who has charge also of the Black Creek Methodist church, extended an invitation to the team to conduct a service at that church within next few weeks. The team accepted. The trip to Seymour was made in Mr. Smith's car, and Mrs. Smih and Mrs. George F. Werner accompanied the men.

Car in Ditch

A Studebaker car said to be owned, by a Pacific-st resident was in the ditch at Finnegan corners, near Waverly beach from Saturday night until 9 o'clock Sunday morning, before it was removed. Two young men in a roadster kept guard of it all night to protect it from being stripped. Its presence in the ditch was said to be due a young lady who was learning to drive and who became confused.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Motza of Milwaukee autoed to Appleton Sunday to visit Mrs. John Schuh, 909 Appleton-st.

A Free Booklet on First Aid in the Home

It is not generally realized how many accidents happen in the home. They are so common that we should know a great deal more about them — how to prevent them, and just what to do if by mischance they occur in our household.

For that reason this Bureau has obtained for free distribution a booklet containing this valuable information. It is entitled "First Aid in the Home" and was prepared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

This booklet gives the causes of the commonest home accidents and tells how to prevent them. The emergency care of the injuries due to such accidents is also described.

Send for your copy of this booklet today and place it in your medicine cabinet for emergenly use. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES
EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

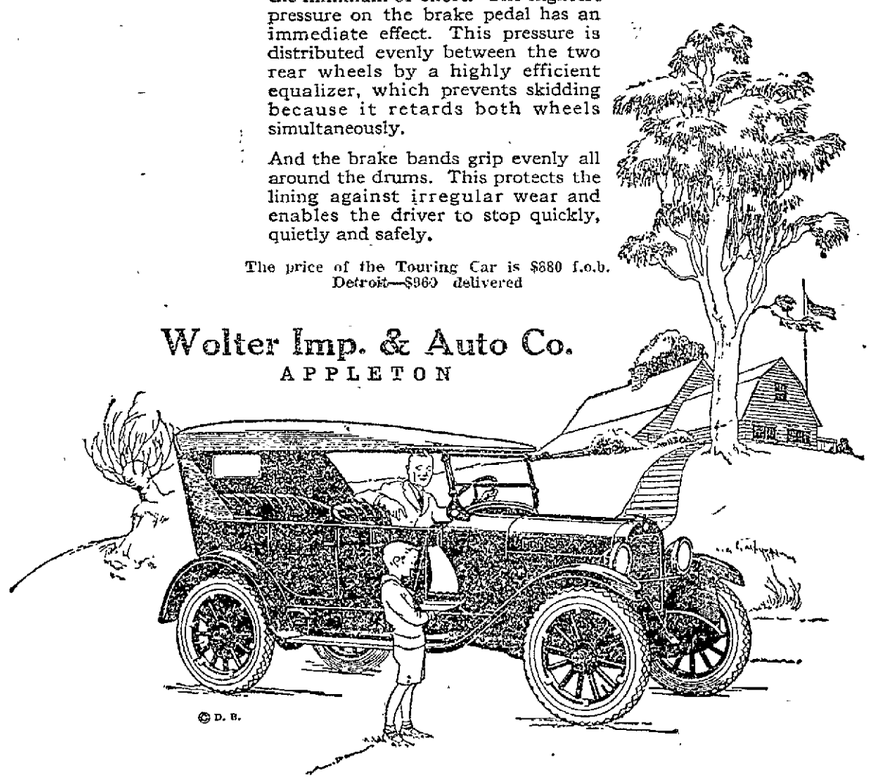

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2¼ inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

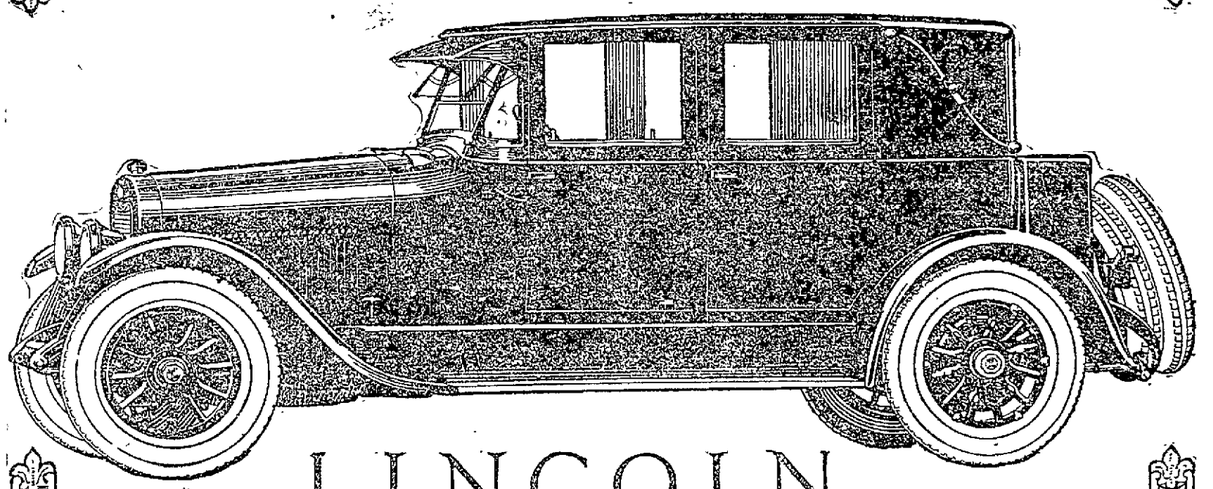

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

NUSS SIGNED TO MEET QUINN IN APPLETON ON JULY 4

Oney Johnston Post Signs Two Nationally Known Fighters For Independence Day Bouts

Nuss Is Billed To Fight Wilson For Title

Through the efforts of Elmer Johnston, the Oney Johnston post of the American Legion has succeeded in signing up Gunner Joe Quinn, St. Paul, and Jimmy Nuss, Milwaukee, to battle here July 4. For some weeks, Johnston had been dickering with these fighters, and at last he has succeeded in beating Shelby, Milwaukee, and Cedar Rapids to it.

Nuss is the biggest card today among the Milwaukee middleweights, while Quinn is the idol of the twin cities. The Cream City fighter has been showing phenominal progress during the last two years, losing only one decision in that period. This was when Jimmy got out of his sick bed to fulfill a contract to fight Billy Emke in Milwaukee, and later, in the return bout he knocked the redoubtable Billy out, at a time when Emke was thought to be invincible in his class. Two years ago Frankie Grace fought Nuss to a draw in Appleton, and a few weeks ago the pair met again. Nuss laid his opponent low in two rounds.

On June 25, Nuss meets the world's champion middleweight, Johnny Wilson. Should he come out of this battle a victor, Appleton will be the first to see the new champ in action, and those who have seen him in action recently, believe he can beat Wilson, as a man who swings as terrific a right as does Jimmy is dangerous to any fighter.

DEFEATED ROSTAN

Quinn gained wide prominence when he decisively defeated Navy Rostan in Des Moines in 1921. Rostan was considered one of the best of the middleweight division of that time. Owing to a habit of his when he has rendered an opponent helpless of appealing to the referee to stop the fight so that he will not be forced to deal out more punishment, Quinn is called the "gentleman boxer." When he had practically cut Frankie Grace to ribbons in Milwaukee, he knocked him off his feet, and picking him up asked him to quit, telling him that he was a very good fighter but having an offnight. He has fought all over the United States and is a good drawing card everywhere.

GOOD PRELIM CARD

This fight probably will be the best that has been arranged here from the spectators' point of view, and those who know the boxing game and the ways of fight fans predict that it will draw the biggest crowd ever gathered in this city to witness a boxing contest. The legion is anticipating a crowd which will require every foot available in the armory, and fears that it will be necessary to turn hundreds away. To give the local fans an opportunity to take their choice of seats, tickets will be placed on sale here in a few days, after which they will be distributed throughout this section of the state.

The preliminary bouts have not yet been arranged, but Elmer Johnson has opened negotiations with some of the best fighters of the Fox river valley, and promises a good card.

For the benefit of the fighters and the spectators, electric fans are to be installed throughout the building, and also about the ceiling to draw out the warm air. The armory will be the coolest place in town the afternoon of the fight. Further, arrangements are being made to run a leased wire into the building to get full and complete returns on the Dempsey-Gibbons fight in Shelby.

EIGHT QUALIFIED FOR GOLF TOURNEY

The eight golfers with lowest net scores have been entered in the June handicap tournament at Riverview Country club. The qualifying round was played on Saturday and finals will be played June 24.

Golfers qualifying and their scores follow:

	Gross	Han'cap	Net
Jack Stevens	78	7	71
H. E. Holbrook	96	23	73
F. J. Edmonds	89	17	72
K. S. Dickinson	79	5	74
D. W. Bergstrom, Jr.	94	22	72

O. C. Smith	94	21	73
H. L. Lyons	102	27	75

GUARDSMEN WILL KEEP ORDER AT BIG BATTLE

Helena, Mont.—State officials on Monday stated that promoters of the Dempsey-Gibbons championship fight on July 4 and law enforcement officers had sought information relative to the use of a portion of the Montana National guard to maintain law and order at Shelby during the week of the fight.

Unofficially it was said that two companys which are to entrain from Camp Lewis, Wash., soon for their summer training have been ordered to return by way of Shelby.

There has been some doubt as to whether troops could be used for this purpose unless there were to be a proclamation of martial law, but it is said that the matter is receiving consideration. If troops are used it is said the state would be reimbursed for the expense by interests which are promoting the fight.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Pinkey Mitchell is willing to donate his services for a charity boxing bout in Chicago providing Benny Leonard is his opponent. This was the hot-shot in the feud between the champion and Milwaukee boxer. The pair had it out in Chicago several weeks ago and the show netted about twenty-five bucks for charity. Both fighters have offered to donate their services but we have our doubts if they would consent to face each other despite all the newspaper stuff.

The week end games in the State league resulted in the usual shake up in the percentage table. Bobby Lynch's Bays put over a double win and stepped into first place as Appleton tripped up Kaukauna in Saturday's combat. Fondy clipped a notch deeper in the cellar when Earl Howard was brushed off by Eddie Stumpf & Co. in a well played game. Appleton, Neenah and Menasha broke even while Oshkosh dropped a pair.

The Giants hit the skids during the past week and McGraw's invasion of the West has not been a howling success. The New Yorkers started out on their jaunt confident of easy going but the Cubs took a pair from them and Pittsburg tripped them up. The Giants still have a strangle hold on first place but, if they keep on going as they did last week, the National league race may be a whole lot closer than the baseball world expected.

Adolph Luque has joined the ranks of the aged pitchers who are performing brilliantly on the diamond this season. Sport writers, who have hurled up columns of space singing the praises of Grover Cleveland Alexander and the antique Babe Adams now are turning their attention to the Cuban slabster who bends 'em over the Redlegs. Luque is credited with seven wins in eight games. This is going some considering that Cincy has been in the second division most of the time.

Battling Siki is going to invade our midst. Reports from Paris have it that the pugilist plans to sail for the U. S. about the middle of June providing he can shake off some half dozen managers and promoters who claim to have a string on his services. Here's hoping they keep him in France.

TOMMY AIRS VIEWS ON DRY QUESTION

Dempsey Challenger Not Worrying On Outcome Of Fight With Champ

By Associated Press

Shelby, Mont.—Newspaper men who went to the house in which Tom Gibbons, challenger of Jack Dempsey is living while training for the heavyweight championship bout here July 4, were met at the door by Mrs. Gibbons, who extended the hospitality of the Gibbons home thus:

"Tom is just amusing the baby; come right in, perhaps you can help."

The scribes found Gibbons sitting at the piano holding the baby on his knee with one hand and picking out chords with the other. The coming of the reporters brought the challenger's solo to an abrupt conclusion but he continued in the role of nurse and while he talked about the championship bout.

Gibbons believes there is no possibility of his losing the forthcoming battle with Dempsey and gives the impression that his mind is entirely free of worry. In his conversation he appeared to be more interested in prohibition than in boxing. Discussing prohibition, Gibbons said he could see no reason why any man should want to drink whisky but thought that beer was not harmful if drank in moderation. Gibbons is a total abstainer.

The challenger Tuesday will pitch the first ball in a game to be played here, and then will box a few rounds with Bud Gorman.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

QUESTIONS

ONE—With runner on first and one out, batter with two strikes on him swings at a wild pitch, which the catcher never even reaches. What about such a play?

TWO—Why doesn't the infield fly rule apply with a man on first only?

THREE—Runners are on second and third and two out. The batsman triples, both runners crossing the plate. Batsman fails to touch second, ball is thrown there and he is ruled out, retiring the side. Do the runs count?

FOUR—Runner on first who starts for second with the pitch. Batsman grounds sharply to first baseman, who touches bag retiring batter and then throws to second to get the runner there. Is it a force play at second or must the runner be touched?

FIVE—If, on an overthrow of first, the ball gets away from the fielder and strikes the umpire in foul territory, is the ball dead or does it continue in play?

SIX—Several players are running a base runner down, when the runner intereferes with one of the throws to get him and is called out for so doing. Do the players who took part in the play receive an assist?

ANSWERS

ONE—With less than two out and a runner on first, the batsman is automatically out when he strikes out regardless of the fact that the third strike was a wild pitch.

TWO—Because there is no chance for a double play if the batsman will run out his hit as he is supposed to.

THREE—Both runs score. The fact that the batsman was declared out for his failure to touch second does not affect the play, even though it is the third out. The runners are regarded as having scored on the single.

FOUR—Runner must be touched at second. The force is removed when batsman is retired at first.

FIVE—The ball is considered in play.

SIX—Each player who took part in the play gets an assist.

YE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

Two trucks loaded with male employees of the Langstadt Meyer Co. left last Saturday for Mountain, Wis., where they spent Sunday fishing on Pickerel Lake. They report the roads in excellent condition and some record catches were made.

Phil Brosseau caught several small and captured the largest pike of the crowd, while Bill Abbott drew the "booby fish" or the smallest. Harvey Younger reported a dandy time and returned Monday with a nice coat of tan.

Coach McChesney hied forth to Cecil, Wis., Monday afternoon where he intends to fish for a few days.

Reports say that a bunch of fishermen caught quite a few pike off of Haystack on Lake Winnebago Sunday and reported that the fishing there this year has been better than for years.

Big Top Twirler Pulls Boner

SHOCKER

St. Louis—Pitcher Urban Shocker of the St. Louis Browns is regarded as one of the best pitchers in the American League. Not only has Shocker a world of stuff but also plenty of pitching knowledge.

When American League players discuss Shocker as a pitcher, special stress is laid on his ability to mix them up, his great control, and his knowledge of the weakness of the opposing batsman. In other words, Shocker is known as a brainy pitcher, who uses the old noodle as well as the arm.

All of which is preliminary to the statement that even the wisest of heads can make the most ludicrous mistakes. In a recent game with Washington, Shocker pulled a stunt that shapes up well with stealing a base with that particular sack occupied by another runner.

With the score a tie, the bases filled and one out, the Browns' infield moved in to cut a posible run off at the plate, in case a ground ball was hit to the infield. St. Louis fans were confident that Shocker would pitch himself out of the hole, because it is in the pinches that he does his best work.

At a tense moment with the count two balls and two strikes on the batter, Shocker made a quick turn in the direction of first and snapped the ball directly over the heart of the bag. Unfortunately no one was within 10 feet of the throw. Two runs crossed the plate and the runner on first reached third.

"Just pulled a bone," was the only alibi Shocker offered, "ball players do those things occasionally."

Since the Browns won the game in 10 innings the "bone" will soon be forgotten, yet it is a classic from the ivory point of view.

BETTER BASEBALL KROMER'S SLOGAN

Home Player President Builds Association For Improvement Of Amateurs

Ina desperate effort to keep the Home Players' league from disintegrating entirely, George J. Kromer, president of the league, is attempting to form associations with each player paying dues at the rate of $1 a week. This will make it unnecessary to pay amateurs to play in the league, lightening the burden of the managers to a great extent and doing away with the necessity of charging an admittance fee for the games. Stormy Kromer would like to see his clubs a bunch of good losers when occasion demands, and while he admires the spirit that makes them want to win, he would much rather see them go into thegame for the sport there is in it, and the experience to be gained than for the sole reason that they want to lead the league and pile up money. Kromer believes that none of the remaining teams of the league will be forced to follow the example of Green Bay and Oshkosh if they will consent to follow his precepts, and strongly advocates that all of them organize to share the expense of their years of apprenticeship equally.

Stormy has adopted as the slogan of the league the watchword "Make Home Players' Baseball Better."

Kinks o' the Links

by "PRO"

Player drives his ball into the sand trap, it being an easy matter to follow the flight of the ball, as the distance it traveled was not very great. On reaching the sand trap the ball is not in sight, but a mark where it struck and traveled a few feet, before imbedding itself in the sand, enables the player to locate the position of the ball. What is the proper procedure for the player to make before his next shot? Must the player drive the ball from where he believes it is located, or has he a right to brush aside the sand before taking his next shot? Is there any penalty attached?

If the ball is entirely buried in the sand, yet the player has a fairly good idea of its location, he may brush aside enough of the sand to enable him to see the top of the ball. There is no penalty attached even if the ball should be touched. If perchanie you should uncover a trifle more than the top of the ball, don't re-cover it as you have no right to do so.

Has a player the right to ascertain whether his opponent's ball is out of bounds before his opponent can compel him to play? In a recent match between two rivals, which was decided by one stroke, one of the players insisted on finding out whether his opponents's ball was out of bounds before he shot, claiming such information would influence his style of play, determining whether he should take a chance or play safe.

Section three of rule 23 says a player has the right to ascertain whether his opponent's ball is out of bounds before being compelled to play his next shot.

TRUCKS TO REPLACE ANNULED MAIL TRAIN

The United States postal department has provided for temporary service between Oconto and Gillett via Oconto Falls, following the removal of two trains from that branch of the Chicago and Northwestern railway. Trucks will convey mail from Oconto to Oconto Falls and Gillett daily, leaving on arrival of train No. 121, which leaves Appleton at 2:50 a. m. and arrives at Oconto at 5:12 a. m. This will practically restore mail service between Appleton and the points mentioned. No mail will be taken by the trucks for intermediate points, however.

PINKEY WOULD MEET BENNY FOR CHARITY

Welterweight Champ Insists That Lightweight Be His Opponent

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee, junior welterweight champion boxer is willing to box without remuneration at a benefit for the Westside Boys' club, Chicago, provided Benny Leonard, lightweight champion is his opponent.

Announcement to this effect was made Monday following Leonard's recent offer to engage in a similar capacity.

A message was sent to Promoter Jim Mullen, Chicago, signifying Mitchell's willingness providing however, insistently, that Leonard be his opponent.

"It occurs to me that Benny's offer is purely 'bunk' or that his offer might have a string tied to it, providing for an easy bout with a 'soft' antagonist," said Billy Mitchell, manager of his brother boxer. "In view of the extremely unsatisfactory outcome of the recent bout which yielded practically nothing to the cause for which it was fostered, a return engagement should be interesting and result in a tidy purse for the boy's club."

BRAUTIGAN CALLS OFF TWIN CITY GAME

Conflicting Dates Cause Postponement Of Marinette-Appleton Game

The invasion of the Marinette baseball tribe scheduled at Brandt park next Saturday has been called off by Brautigan and Sylvester. The two local bosses are experiencing great difficulty in finding a pitcher who will be willing to sign up for the season, and on top of this comes the disastrous news that Marty and Ted Lamers, Len and Red Smith, and Wenzel will have to play with the Kimberly Clark Industrial league team against the Cellucottons, who have a game on their card for Saturday. The game will not be forfeited as President McGillan sees the impossibility of the Papermakers playing with four of the regulars out of the lineup.

The stiffened chord in Stock's arm which forced him out of the box last Sunday, is showing signs of improvement, and in all probability the star twirler will be able to again take up his post on the mound at Sheboygan next week. T. Lamers is unwilling to stay on the bench long enough to give his sprained thumb a chance to heal, and has been doing good work in spite of it, both at his regular station and as pitcher. The injury handicaps him constantly however, in picking up some of the fast sizzlers he has been getting recently, and does not improve his hitting to any great extent.

which will be of value to all motorists. Look for them, as the series is well worth following.

YANKS LOSE SEVEN GAMES OUT OF TEN; INDIANS WIN 4-5

Cubs Grab Sixth Straight Victory In 10-1 Defeat Of Boston Braves

By Associated Press

Chicago—A cold chill is running up and down the spines of followers of the New York Yankees. The Yanks returned home in glory less than two weeks ago with a record of 17 games won and three lost on the road. In their last ten games at home, the Yanks have lost seven and Tuesday stand only four games ahead of the reawakened Philadelphia Athletics.

Last week the Yanks dropped two out of three to Chicago and one to Washington and Monday there were defeated by the Cleveland Indians, who made it two out of three, 4 to 5.

Manager Miller Huggins, emulating the methods of the shrewd Connie Mack, has taken three stars from college diamonds to bolster his team, Lou Gehrig, Columbia first baseman, began working out with the Yanks Monday and Tuesday Mike Gazella, the flashy LaFayette infielder, will get into uniform and Ed Vanderbeck, the Fordham catcher, will soon follow.

The Chicago White Sox beat Boston 5 to 4 by jumping to the attack and holding the lead despite threats of the Red Sox to retaliate.

The Chicago Cubs made it four straight from Boston, 10 to 1, and six consecutive victories by disappointing Jess Barnes, former Giant, on his first reappearance in a Boston uniform. The Cubs Tuesday are one point behind St. Louis, and only 12 below Cincinnati in the first division. All other games in the majors were prevented by bad weather.

Ace Elliott, star catcher of the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league, has been purchased by the Chicago Nationals and will report to Manager Killefer Wednesday.

Babe Ruth threw a scare into Sherrod Smith, the former Brooklyn National twirler now with the Indians, by busting a double on his first trip to the plate. After that blow Babe was given four intentional passes.

Manager Tris Speaker scored the deciding run in Cleveland's victory over the Yankees. With the score tied "Spoke" doubled in the eighth, moved to third on an infield out, and brought home the bacon on Connolly's sacrifice fly.

Earl Smith, former Giant catcher now with the Braves, is playing a good game since joining the Boston club. He baged two doubles off Alexander and hit the ball hard on his other two times up.

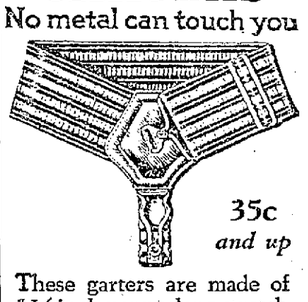

Hervy McClellan continues to shine at short for the White Sox. Little Mac has been pounding the ball consistently and his fielding has been high class. He bagged two hits, one a double, off Jack Quinn of Boston Monday and accepted eight chances in the field without a wobble.

Eddie Collins, premier second sacker in the American league, showed indication of losing his batting eye against the Red Sox. "Cocky" smashed out three hits and made a sacrifice in five times up. His fielding was brilliant also.

Chick Fewster of the Red Sox fielded in grand style against the White Sox, figuring in two double plays.

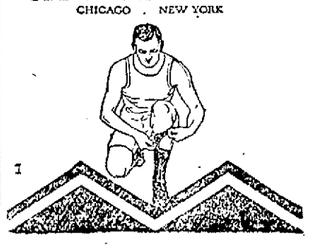

William Ullery, star firstbaseman on "Greazy" Neale's Bellevue (Ky) K. I. O. club, has been signed by the St. Louis Americans for a trial in George Sisler's position. Ullery's services have been sought by several major league clubs. He is a graduate of Penn State college, and is an all-round athlete.

DUNDEE WILL GIVE CRIQUI HARD ROW

Younger Fighter Has Better Chance Than Kilbane To Get Poilu's Number

By Associated Press

New York—Although Eugene Criqui performed like a real champion when he knocked out Johnny Kilbane in six rounds and won the world featherweight title recently, the little Frenchman's exact rating will not be fixed until he battles Johnny Dundee. Criqui did everything asked of him and did it well, but the opposition was woefully weak. It was old age as much as the Frenchman's blows that beat Kilbane.

Other French boxers who came over here were unable to withstand body punishment. Whether Criqui has the unusual weakness of his countrymen remains to be seen. Dundee knows how to hammer the body and he will not neglect to try for it as Kilbane did.

HAS BETTER CHANCE

Although Dundee does not hit as hard as Kilbane, the Italian will have a better chance to score. Kilbane conserved his blows. His plan was to land one sudden shot on a vital spot for a knockout. Criqui covered his jaw, heart and stomach so well that Kilbane had few opportunities.

Dundee does not try for one punch knockouts. He is not particular where he lands and does not spare his blows. Where Kilbane tried to sneak one over without being hit himself, Dundee will take one or more to give one. That is why he is going to give the Frenchman a more severe test than the latter received in the affair that won him the title.

SOCIETY SEEKS TO STOP BIRD KILLING

By Associated Press

Chicago — Organization of an army of citizens subscribing to break up what they call "the guntoters conspiracy" against birds, flowers, trees, crime and disease, is the purpose of a movement started here by Joseph Beatty Burtt, an attorney, which already has numbered among its recruits some of the leading men, fraternal bodies, civic clubs and commercial firms in the middle west.

Pledges have been circulated urging every man, woman and child to "help break the gun-toters conspiracy against our friends the birds," and so satisfactory has been the response in signatures that the ambition has become nation wide, according to Mr. Burtt.

"The movement had its inception in the Michigan Audubon Society, and Senator Woodbridge Ferris has promised to make his Washington office a clearing house for the society's aims," said Mr. Burtt, who is chairman of the crime prevention committee of the society. "It has spread beyond the society and Michigan, however, and we are receiving pledges and inquiries from points throughout this section. The movement was designed for the protection of birds, but will raise its voice against animal and inanimate things. Constructiveness, not destructiveness; prevention of crime, not punishment for crime, are remedies for many of our troubles."

Organizations which have subscribed to the movement include the Hamilton Club, the Knights of Pythias, Masonic lodges, Lions clubs, common pleas courts, penal and corrective institutions, rotary clubs, wild flower, bird and horticultural societies, playground associations and numerous large commercial companies.

A poster depicting a black hulk of a man holding a smoking gun, while on the ground lies a slaughtered bird, has been designed as the official poster for the movement.

Big Doings, Waverly, Wednesday Nite.

Checks Save Miles

A hundred years ago it was often necessary for a business man to travel many a rough mile with his money to settle an account.

Later it became possible to send his money by express. Today he merely sits at his desk and writes a check in settlement of an account at home or abroad..

A checking account at this bank is a mighty handy thing.

JURY LIBERATES CAMPBELL, HELD FOR LIQUOR SALE

Examination Revealed Some Members Were Opposed To Prohibition

It took the jury of 12 men trying the case of Howard Campbell, proprietor of a soft drink parlor on Lake-st, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, just 22 minutes to render a verdict of not guilty in municipal court Monday. The jury retired at 4:09 in the afternoon after receiving the charge from Judge A. M. Spencer and returned with an acquital at 4:31.

In examining the jury, the attorneys asked if any of them were members of a society either opposed to or in favor of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment of the United States constitution. Several of the men answered they were opposed to the amendment and one man said he is a member of a society opposed to the enforcement of the amendment. One member of the jury was proprietor of a soft drink parlor and on the original panel there were four bartenders.

The complete panel was as follows: Peter Lanser, 1075 Gilmore-st; Anton Fischer, 908 Washington-st; Ed. J. Kraus, 1195 Gilmore-st; E. A. Sieg, 881 Morrison-st; John Hoerning, (absent) 1073 Superior-st; John A. Bergman, (excused) 763 Richmond-st; Joseph Schreiter, 783 State-st; George Acker, 1131 Fifth-st; Charles Selig, 617 South River-st; Henry Brookhyser, 1078 Packard-st; Anton Lehrer, 1131 Packard-st; H. Wildhagen, (excused) 655 Durkee-st; Albert F. Kuether, (excused) 964 North Division-st; Reinhold Krabbe, 1039 Superior-st; Charles Freiberg, 859 Commercial-st; Ernest Wilson, 574 South River-st.

The charge brought against Campbell was that he sold a half pint of liquor to William Menard, whom the police used as a stool pigeon.

Milwaukee Boosters Get Royal Welcome On Arrival In City

Special Train Bearing Delegation Of Business Men Makes Overnight Stop Here—Band Gives Concerts

Wearing white hats and linen dusters and accompanied by a band, approximately 100 members of the jobbers and monufacturers committee of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce arrived in Appleton at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon on a special train. They were met at the depot by several hundred citizens and a reception committee composed of Mayor Henry Reuter, T. B. Reid, O. P. Schlafer, H. A. Gloudemans, E. A. Schmalz, Seymour Gmeiner, H. J. Ingold, Hugh G. Corbett and J. B. Langenberg.

The visitors, headed by their band, were escorted to the corner of Washington and Oneida-sts, where Mayor Henry Reuter formally welcomed them in a 2-minute address. He said it was a pleasure to have the honor of extending on behalf of the people of Appleton the hospitality of the city to the visitors and invited them to come again. The mayor took up no more time than was necessary in order to permit the visitors to inspect the stores before they closed.

On their way from the depot the boosters threw advertising souvenirs among the people on the sidewalk and upon breaking ranks distributed advertising literature among the crowd. Many children to whom candy was a luxury were presented to their amazement with large striped sticks that filled their chubby hands. Following the mayor's talk, Charles R. Decker, chairman of the jobbers' and manufacturers' committee, announced the band would give a concert at the City park at 7:30 and that former Governor E. L. Philipp would give an address.

WANT AD TIPS—

Courtesy For Inquirers Who Do Not Buy

"Well," said the caller hesitatingly, as though fearing to offend, edging toward the steps, "I think I'll look about some more before I buy."

The moment when an inquirer, after being shown an advertised article, indicates that while her verdict may not be negative, it at least is not affirmative—she wishes to see what others offer—comes not once, but many, many times in the experience of Want advertisers. What is the proper ruing to do when the inquirer starts to leave?

The right thing, usually, is to be pleasant and courteous, and freely to let the visitor go away. The same situation arises uncounted times in the retail stores of the country, and best practice in these is best practice of the Want advertiser.

Said a merchant who has had phenomenal success: "I attribute much of my steady growth in patronage to my policy of letting store visitors go away readily without buying. I instruct my salespeople never to "hang on" to a visitor, never to seem displeased at his departure, but on the contrary to send him away with courtesy and a smile.

"I figure it this way. A policy of hanging on, holding in the store just as long as possible, would make a sale to an occasional person. But all would be antagonized by it, and, finally getting away, wouldn't come back. Now, many go away, look at the offerings of others, and then come back and buy. They like to come back, because we have treated them with thorough courtesy.

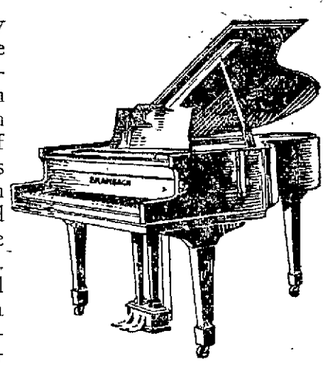

"Being courteous to the departing inquirer, freely letting him leave, sells him in the end."

This is excellent policy for the Want advertiser. Do this, however. Obtain the name, address and phone number, if possible, of the inquirer. Several days later, if you haven't sold your article, call up the latter. Inform him your article is still for sale. Inquire whether he has bought or not. Many times this little act will result in a sale.
